4. This standard contains excerpted text from an ISO or IEC standard, but is not an ISO or IEC adoption.	Check here if this standard includes excerpted text from an ISO or IEC standard but is not an identical or modified adoption of an ISO or IEC standard.
5. Provide a brief explanation of the need for the project:	This new project will facilitate the consolidation and development of procedures for compliance testing of a wide variety of licensed transmitters. The current procedures are scattered throughout a number of unrelated documents causing confusion regarding the testing of devices and inconsistent test results. The project will also provide a forum for test labs, manufacturers of wireless devices and the government to discuss the testing of a many licensed transmitters.
6. Identify the stakeholders (e.g., telecom, consumer, medical, environmental, etc.) likely to be directly impacted by the standard:	EMC test laboratories and equipment manufacturers (software designers), EMC laboratory accreditation bodies, government agencies, manufacturers of unlicensed devices, Telecommunication Certification Bodies, Telecommunications Industry Association (TIA) and TCB Council.
7. This PINS revises a previous PINS submittal:	Note: A revised PINS is only required if the previously identified stakeholders have changed substantively (see item 6 on this form.).

8. Description of Contents of Standard: (Provide a one paragraph description, not to exceed 500 characters.)		The new standard is intended to cover the procedures for testing a wide variety of licensed transmitters; including but not limited to transmitters operating under Parts 22, 24, 25, 27, 90, 95 and 101 of the FCC Rules, transmitters subject to the general procedures in Part 2 of the FCC Rules and procedures for transmitters not covered in the FCC Rules. The standard will also address specific topics; e.g., ERP/EIRP, average power measurements and instrumentation requirements. The project is to be completed in eighteen to twenty-four months after approval of the PINS.
